ENGLAND. The March of Progress in the "Mother Country." . Cor. Conrier-Journal.

The notion that Old England is in her detage, that her national vigor and enterprise are declining, and that she is too stupidly conservative to follow the progressive in finets of the times, prevails very largely in the United States. In fact, very few people, except the traveling element of our population, regard England with an intelligent eye.

To mest Americans she is a kind of form sil, an old fogy, stereotyped in all the old ways, and almost utterly adverse to improvements and changes for the better. After an absence of several years from her shares, I am sure, from what I have seen, that the old lady is not only as young and stronger than ever, but that there are no signs of approaching age or feebleness. The Crucial Test of the value of a medicine is time. Does experience confirm the claims put firth in its javor at the outset? Is the grand question. Apply this criterion, so simple, yet so searching, to farrant's Effervescent, seltzer Aperient. ing, to Tarrant's Effervescent, Seltzer Apericut, llow has it worn? What has been its history? How does it stand to day?

TARRANT'S SELIZER APERIENT is a hone-bold name throughout the United Stales. It is administered as a specific, and with success, in dyspepsia sick headache, nervous debility, liver complaint, byllous remittents, howel complaints (especially constipation) rheumstiam, gont, gravel, namea, the complaints peculiar to like maternal sex, and all it pes of inflammation. So milit is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the laste, so refreshing to the gales, that children never refuse to take it. FOR THE CURE OF AGUE AND FEVER

CHILLS AND FEVER The proprietor of this celebrated mediine justly claims for it a superiorlty over all renedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy, and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chitte and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear lain restinous to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it it to care, it the lirections are strictly followed and earried out. In a great nours cases a single dese has teen sufficient for a cure, mot whole families have been cared by a single pottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent. long standing cases. Usually, this cine will not require any ald to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, atter having taken three or four doses o the Tonic, a single dose of BULL S VEG-ETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient
